Why Carriers Choose BPA

Agile & Quick

- Allows insurers to configure products easily for quick product launches
- Enables quick changes to rate tables, forms, underwriting rules, etc.
- Make faster decisions with real-time reporting

Makes an insurer an “Insurtech”

- Support innovation, entrepreneurship and technological enablement in users with BPA’s microservice enabled, event-driven, API-first, and cloud-native architecture
- Keeps data and security safe, embedded at the heart of the platform

Lowers total cost of ownership

- Reduces reliance of vendors and IT staff via self-service configuration of products
- Improves workflows with easy-to-configure task management
- Allows underwriters to focus on what they do best by automating decisions via straight-through processing

Integrates easily with heterogeneous systems

- Enhance data flow with secure, event-driven and easy-to-configure webhooks that allow for simple import from and export to third-party providers
- Customise your workflow to best support your business with 30+ out of the box connectors

Improves transparency

- Build better customer and carrier relationships with support on exposure, capacity and coverage
- Meet regulatory compliance requirements with a full audit history available in BPA
- Enable a better understanding of coverage with improved accessibility and by providing clarity on policy documentation

Xceedance's BPA platform has given us the flexibility and capability to handle diverse partner needs efficiently. The collaborative approach and robust technology have significantly streamlined our operations, making us an easy partner to work with.

– Mike Cavanaugh,
Chief Insurance Officer at Fusion, USA

With Tego's operational needs expanding, we sought a partner capable of future proofing the business and supporting continued growth in the market. We are excited to partner with Xceedance and integrate its BPA platform into our operations.
